Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-26, drawn to a cursor control device comprising distinct features such as various materials of the window and the various locations and functions of the filter element.

Group II, claims 27-46, drawn to an optical engine comprising distinct features such as an imaging lens element, a first filter, a second filter, and the various locations and functions of these elements.

Group III, claims 47-90, drawn to a cursor control device comprising distinct features such as an outer shell having a convex dome, an inner shell having a complementary convex dome and a specific controller and its distinct functions.

Group IV, claims 91-106, drawn to a cursor control device comprising distinct features such as a specific confidence calculation section and its function, a specific projection calculation section and its functions, and a specific enhancement calculation section and its functions.

Group V, claims 107-123, drawn to a specific processor comprising distinct features such as means for determining a tracking confidence value, means for determining a projected tracking value, and means for determining an enhanced tracking value, and means for providing the enhanced tracking value to a client device for control of cursor motion.

Group VI, claims 124-140, drawn to a method of processing cursor control data comprising distinct features such as steps of performing a specific confidence calculation, performing a specific projection calculation section, performing a specific enhancement calculation section, and its functions

Group VII, claims 141-146, drawn to a cursor control device comprising a specific controller including means for receiving intensity information and an adaptive illumination control means; and two sensors.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-VII do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each group recites at least one or more distinct features, which are not required in the other groups. See the distinct features listed above.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained.

Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.
